January 2019

Happy New Year! We're officially at the halfway mark for the ASSP Greater Baton Rouge chapter year, and just starting to pick up steam. On behalf of the executive board and the organization, I hope you had a very merry holiday season and were able to spend time with family and loved ones.

Thank you to members who attended our December meeting for Glenn Young's technical presentation on "How Your Own Safety Rules Impede Site Safety." Many thanks to Sarah Taylor and Bub's Place at Gulf Gatherings for providing a terrific venue for our meeting. Also, another thank you to Fall Tech for sponsoring the December meeting.

This month the chapter meeting will be back at Mike Anderson's in Gonzales for our annual joint meeting with the Deep South Section of AIHA. Our speakers this month are Lu Yuan, ScD, CSP (Southeastern Louisiana University) and Chris Newton (Cajun Industries) who'll be presenting "Learning Through Real World Ready Experience." Our meeting sponsor is Glenn Young & Associates.

ASSP's annual SeminarFest is being held January 24th-31st in Las Vegas. Members interested in participating will be able to save by registering for courses prior to December 15th.

The ASSP Region PDC is going to be held February 21st-22nd, 2019 in Savannah, GA. This is a great opportunity to support our organization at the regional level, as well as network, and enjoy a beautiful city. If you are interested in attending, more information can be found at <http://regionpdc.com>.

These students are currently getting NCCER certifications in welding, electrical, and carpentry. We are asking for some volunteers to man the booths to assist the students on critical thinking for how they should handle the risks being displayed. Also we are asking for material to create the scenarios with. Anything is appreciated (damaged ladders, cords, PPE, LOTO equipment, machines with missing guards, etc.) and we can give this back to you after the training if needed.
